“Julian Assange's father, John Shipton, gave an interview to Strategic Culture Foundation over the weekend. After arriving from his home country of Australia, Shipton is visiting several European states, including Russia, to bring public attention to the persecution of Julian Assange by British authorities over his role as a publisher and author.[...]”

Peace vs. Climate

By Peter Koenig

September 22, 2019

“[...] How about this kind of an approach – an approach towards Peace and a protected environment. This would be something extraordinary – youth for PEACE and youth for a better distribution of food, and youth for a serious protection of our environment. Mr. Soros and his allies may not like it, because demonstrating against Climate Change, making a publicity hype of Climate Change – is clearly a deviation from ongoing wars that kill – millions and millions – in the name of profit and dominance – and eventually hegemony over the world's resources and people.

Kids, ask the UN for achievable goals – for PEACE. It's not easy, but it's a worthwhile goal which we, mankind with a conscience are able to achieve.”

The Forgotten War

Saudis Blame Iran for Aramco Strikes But Retaliate by Bombing Yemeni Civilians

The Saudi-led Coalition has used systematic economic strangulation as a weapon of war. This, to the many in Yemen who celebrated the Aramco attack, is sufficient justification for targeting the heart of Saudi Arabia's economy.

"[...] Speaking of delusional behavior, the Europeans finally did fall in line behind their AngloZionist overlords and agreed to blame Iran for the attack under what I call the "Skripal rules of evidence" aka "highly likely". The more things change, the more they remain the same I suppose... [...]"

President [Rouhani] at the 74th Session of the UN General Assembly:

Our response to negotiation under sanctions negative/ JCPOA the least; if you want more, you need to give more/ Inviting all regional states to HOPE Initiative/ Saudi Arabia's security ensured by ending aggression towards Yemen, not inviting foreigners

- We remain committed to our promises in the deal. However, our patience has a limit
- Iran's security doctrine is based on the maintenance of peace and stability in the Persian Gulf and providing freedom and safety of navigation in the Strait of Hormuz
- The security of the region shall be provided when American troops pull out. Security shall not be supplied with American weapons and intervention
- The formation of any security coalition and initiative under any title in the region with the centrality and command of foreign forces is a clear example of interference in the affairs of the region
- America is not our neighbour. It is the Islamic Republic of Iran that neighbours you

- Let us invest on hope towards a better future rather than in war and violence
